Week 7

Students had to research on partnering States and Union Territories under "Ek Bharat Shreshth Bharat" and after reading it make a collage based on reading and present it with description.

Week 8

Students had to read a book and write a review of the same.

Story - The Lord of Rings.

Author- (J.R.R. Tolkien) John Ronald Reuel Tolkien,

“The future of civilization rests in the fate of the One Ring, which has been lost for centuries. Powerful forces are unrelenting in their search for it. But fate has placed it in the hands of a young Hobbit named Frodo Baggins (Elijah Wood), who inherits the Ring and steps into legend. A daunting task lies ahead for Frodo when he becomes the Ringbearer - to destroy the One Ring in the fires of Mount Doom where it was forged. The major conflict is the battle for Middle-earth between its diverse inhabitants, including humans, elves, dwarves, hobbits, and wizards, and the dark forces of Sauron. “ Student's name - Sugandha Mishra Class- 7 (A)

“I think this book would help other children to learn that trying new things can be good to study, but sometimes when we try, we can find things that make us happy too. And this book will help others know that mistakes are okay and part of learning.

I liked that I read this book because it gave me a chance to talk to mom about making mistakes and how I don't like making them. Then I learned they are good and part of learning.

Boys and girls who are 10 to 15 years old would like this book because it teaches about trying a new thing and how it's important to get past being scared so you can learn new things.

I give the book 5 stars since I think it's important for other children to learn about courage. ”

Story:Ralph Ellison's The Invisible Man:

An extremely powerful story of a young Southern Negro, from his late high school days through three years of college to his life in Harlem.

His early training prepared him for a life of humility before white men, but through injustices- large and small, he came to realize that he was an "invisible man". People saw in him only a reflection of their preconceived ideas of what he was, denied his individuality, and ultimately did not see him at all. This theme, which has implications far beyond the obvious racial parallel, is skillfully handled. The incidents of the story are wholly absorbing. The boy's dismissal from college because of an innocent mistake, his shocked reaction to the anonymity of the North and to Harle...

Story : The Tell-Tale Heart
Author : Edgar Allan Poe

"The Tell-Tale Heart" is a short story by American writer Edgar Allan Poe, first published in 1843. It is related by an unnamed narrator who endeavors to convince the reader of the narrator's sanity while simultaneously describing a murder the narrator committed. The victim was an old man with a filmy pale blue "vulture-eye", as the narrator calls it. The narrator emphasizes the careful calculation of the murder, attempting the perfect crime, complete with dismembering the body in the bathtub and hiding it under the floorboards. Ultimately, the narrator's actions result in hearing a thumping sound, which the narrator interprets as the dead man's beating heart."

Story - The Last Leaf

It's an amazing story which teaches us the lessons of life. The story is about Sue and Johnsy, two young painters living at the top of a three-story building. Sue on her part did every way possible to make Johnsy feel rejuvenated she made sure that Johnsy is never left alone. This story is about Johnsy whose condition was becoming miserable day by day as she thought when the last leaf will fall she will also die. It implies the thoughts of 'Where there is a will there is a way', 'Friend in need is a friend indeed. It is really an interesting story with a twist. That one girl who did not want to live have been in good condition because of the leaf on her room wall. This story teaches us a lesson that we should never give up because...

Students had to do zig zag reading that is children were to read firstly from left to right and then from right to left and continue reading in the same pattern.

Week 10

Students were assigned the task to locate information on local fruits and vegetables, their varieties and special features.
